Officers, Manufacturer Indicted for Conspiracy

SCRANTON, Pa. (P) - Two Air Force officers and an Ohio manufacturer have been indicted by a federal grand jury for conspiracy in obtaining government contracts for the Royal Electric Co. o Jamestown and Dayton, Ohio.

Indicted Wednesday were Col. Ralph O. Brownfield, former deputy commander of the Middletown (Pa.) Air Materiel Area at Olmsted Air Force Base; Col. Charles F. Burley, director of procurement at Middletown, who later was transferred to the Air Materiel Command at Wright-Patterson AFB in Dayton; and Robert E. McNett, president of Royal Electric.

Burley was reduced in rank from brigadier general. The grand jury charged that Brownfield and Burley conspired with McNett to provide McNett's firm with contracts involving "sensitive and life saving instruthe Hungarian revolt soured him on living in a Communist country, ments" for fighter planes and to investigate racketeering in labor unions can help unionism take a constructive step, if unionists will cooperate.

They know all about the problem of racketeering in the guise of unionism. They know it has given the labor movement a black eye and opened a chasm between it and large segments of the public.

They know it has hurt unionism with many union members whose confidence has been shattered by the abuses of racketeers and alienated potential unionists who want nothing to do with dishonesty and anti-social practices.

The question is whether bona fide union leaders and the hard core of bona fide union members finally have outgrown the fixation of unionism's formative period-that any challenge to any individual automatically became a challenge to all unionists, no matter what the justification.

Congress now stands ready to do for labor unions what it has been called on at various times to do for other key minorities-to help them with investigation and remedial legis-

It has performed this service for banking, insurance, drugs, foods, securities and business in general through the anti-trust laws.

It has performed the service not only for minorities directly involved but for the general public. Yet in no case, with the possible exception of banking, has there been clearer justification for congressional interest than in labor unions, which could not operate at their existing level of influence without government sanction.

The Senate committee is not witch-hunting. It intends to do only what bona fide labor unionists have been trying to do by themselves -rout out the leeches that have fattened themselves on organized labor.

Up The Chute

written month by month in this try-anythingonce country, the transportation of coal from Georgetown in eastern Ohio to Cleveland by pipeline will rate a chapter by itself.

No one can be sure the first installment of coal powder suspended in water will behave according to theory. But no one doubts that the engineering problems are within reach of the problem-solvers who have built the first longdistance coal pipeline. Eventually coal will go up the chute in a continuous stream of water. Theory will have become practice.

This is as logical and inevitable as it was to move long-distance trucks on railroad flatcars. "Piggy-backing" was foretold long before it happened. The continuous movement of coal by pipeline or belt-line was foretold long before the first pipeline was built. The belt-line still is stalled in politics but it is practical, too.

The railroad, itself, was once a vision, but a practical one, as were the canals that preceded the railroads and as were the superhighways that came after the railroads. In the United States, anything that will move people and commodities more satisfactorily is worth trying.

Anyone want to bet there won't be a time when automobiles will be driven to the nearest express route, shunted on to a main track and carried to their destination electronically, with their engines turned off-no more pileups, passing on curves, or exhausted drivers?

Legal Scrimmage

No one can read the Supreme Court's reasoning in ruling 6-to-3 that professional football comes under antitrust laws, like professional boxing, although professional baseball still enjoys an exemption, without concluding that justices have bushed themselves in a historic

Justice Clark, speaking for the majority, admitted as much in this statement: "Were we considering the question of baseball for the first time upon a clean slate, we would have no doubts." It would be in the same fix as

But the slate has been marked with legal squiggles and latinized doodles going back to 1922 when the Federal League sued the National and American leagues as an illegal monopoly. For reasons that had bearing only on the circumstances of 35 years ago, the Supreme Court then upheld the National and American leagues.

The confusion was compounded in 1953 when the Supreme Court in effect upheld itself, never intending to uphold the idea that baseball was not in fact interstate commerce or that its practice of making players the property of the team originally selecting them was not in fact a restraint of trade. Yet, that has been the effect.

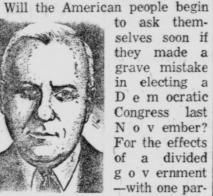

One conclusion now has been reached by all parties concerned - ballplayers, owners, legalists, legislators and the public. It is time to call time, put the Supreme Court on the sidelines and let Congress decide whether or not baseball, football and boxing companies can be saved only by exempting them from antitrust action. That is a scrimmage that would leave legislators as battered and bruised as the justices of the Supreme Court. But it cannot be put off any longer.

They are making all kinds of excuses for delaying passage of the Eisenhower Doctrine resolution. This delay has every appearance of sabotage and filibuster.

The Senate has had ample time for debate-from the week of Jan. 7 when the resolution was introduced. But after seven weeks of drifting, the leader of the Senate Democrats, Lyndon Johnson of Texas, had to say frankly to the Senate on Monday of this week that one of the problems he had last week was to find one senator to speak and another to be pres-

He said the Senate itself is "on trial" because the country cannot understand why so few senators have been present during the discussion of an issue as important as the Middle East resolution.

This has all the earmarks of a filibuster by a bloc of Democrats who do not favor the resolution but know that if it comes to a vote it will pass by a substantial majority.

The Republicans generally have spoken in favor of it and are ready to vote, so the tactics of the Democrats now are to drag the debate along from day to day with one or two senators to do the speaking.

The country will hold the Democratic party responsible for what happens in the Senate. The House, under the statesmanlike leadership of Speaker Rayburn, Democrat, passed the resolution promptly by a vote of 355 to 61 on Jan. 30 but the house has rules with which to limit debate and prevent an organized minority from filibuster-

The "isolationist" comments about "entangling alliances" are nowadays coming from Democratic senators who usually call themselves "liberal." It's just a tragic fight against the administration by its opponents.

The issue that may emerge from all this is one the people may have to settle in the elections of November 1958—whether, when they voted overwhelmingly for President Eisenhower in 1956 and gave the Democrats control of the Senate by a narrow margin, they intended to vote for the chaos of a divided thus weaken the hand of their leader and spokesman before the world.

An eleven-year-old boy, Leonard Ross, recently won $164,000 on 2 quiz show jackpot programs through his expert knowledge of the stock market and what mystifies this corner is how a kid gets that way at an age when most moppets are in the marbles, lollipop and "Let's Play Indian" period.

Are some children born with a talent for economics just as some are born piano players? Or as some are born with a talent for Kelly pool playing? And doesn't it astonish mom and pop when Junior chirps, "Get me the closing market prices or I won't eat my spinach"?

AT ANY RATE these jackpots-for-kiddies programs are working a great change in American homes and many a parent who used to insist on fiddle lessons, so that Junior could at least fall back on a job with an orchestra in later life, now say, "Our son must be wealthy before he puts on long pants. We shall put him under a top stock exchange expert at once and MAKE HIM PRACTICE."

Ike, Mollet See Just Peace In Middle East

WASHINGTON (A) - President Eisenhower and French Premier Guy Mollet today expressed 'common conviction" that a solution in the Middle East "can be achieved by peaceful means, in conformity with the principles of justice and international law.'

Ending three days of talks aimed in large part at repair of Franco-American relations. Eisenhower and Mollet in a joint statement reaffirmed a United Nations declaration of last October calling for "free and open transit" through the Suez Canal "without discrimination."

The President and the French New Associate County Premier made no reference in the communique to mounting hopes Agent To Begin Duties for withdrawal of Israeli forces Albert R. Otherwise, the communique said Eisenhower and Mollet expressed St. pleasure "as old friends" at meet-

Mollet came to Washington reportedly ready to back Israel's demands for security safeguards against any new military action by Egypt in advance of Israeli withdrawal of its forces out of disputed Middle East territory. Eisenhower, on the other hand, had said before the conferences that Israel already had received the maximum assurances it could called anew for withdrawal of Israeli forces lest the U.N. be forced to resort to "pressure." n the communique, Eisenhower and Mollet indicated that they had made progress toward healing the rift in relations between their two countries which developed when France joined British and Israeli forces last fall in an attack of Egypt. The United States had protested that action and demanded withdrawal of the troops of all three nations. Britain and France complied. Israel still has not fully done so.

The communique said Eisenhower and Mollet, together with their top advisers, had engaged "in a friendly exchange of views in an atmosphere which reflected the long-standing and friendly ties between the two countries."

Wetzel Introduces Bill To Kill Axle-Mile Tax, Replace It With Gasoline Tax

Proposed Bill Would Make State Pay For Utilities Moved For New Highways

COLUMBUS, Ohio (P)-If a new state highway forces the relocation of a gas pipeline, who should pay the bill-the utility company

Leaders of the Republican-controlled General Assembly listed that issue a week ago as one on which there will be "some action"

A bill was introduced in the House Wednesday to require the state to pay for relocation of utility property if the federal government pays any part of the cost of the highway project. That would include almost every major highway the state will build in the gigantic construction program planned for the next few years.

Under the proposed law, the state would pay for the relocation of telegraph, telephone, electric, gas, water, sewer, pipeline and city mass transit facilities. The proposal came from Reps. Louis *J. Schneider Jr. (R-Hamilton), Robert L. Johnson (R-Medina) and Ed Wallace (D-Pickaway).

Elected state officials and judges, who started to collect higher salaries only last month, would be in line for still higher pay under terms of another bill introduced Wednesday. They wouldn't be eligible to collect the proposed new salaries, however, until they start new four-year terms in January 1959.

Lawmakers introduced 3 more bills Wednesday as they raced to beat the introduction deadline next Tuesday. The total now stands at 797, still more than 500 below last

Quakers Sink 50% Of Shots From The Field

By MARK MILLER

Salem's Quakers walloped Austintown Fitch 77-61 last night to win their second game in the Class AA Sectional Tournament at South Field House in Youngstown before nearly 2,000 fans. Salem will advance to the Canton District finals on March 8 and 9th.

After a slow start, probably caused by jitters, the Red and Black surged forward with a powerful assault of offensive precisioned maneuvers, backed by a terrific shooting display, which had the fans awed throughout the game.

This was a ball game in which neither team asked nor gave quarter as the Quakers had to hustle for everything they got. Their tremendous desire, overall speed, team balance, plus a great will to win contributed toward the vic-

THIS LUXURIOUS FULL-SIZED BEAUTY-

Costs less than a lot of "low-priced" jobs!

Open your eyes to its glisten—get a tingle from its go—and you'll wonder how this big, nimblewheeled beauty ever edged its way into the low-price field! Actually you can go a long, long way up the price scale and still not get what the Chieftain offers: In wheelbase, its extra-long 122" span is crowding the biggest; in power, Pontiac's deep-chested 347 cu. in., 10 to 1 compression ratio Strato-Streak V-8 is getting rave write-ups by experts who have driven 'em all!

And when it comes to ride, no other car can hold a candle to the new ideas that went into Pontiac's soothin', smooth Level-Line Ride! Yet, with all this, a full-sized Chieftain six-passenger sedan actually costs less than 30 models of the low-price three. Come in for a turn at the wheel and a look at the price tag . . . and discover how easy it is to excite your pride and calm

WASHINGTON (A) - The Army will organize its first two atomic support commands March 1, i was announced today.

One command, designated "Air Transportable," will be formed at Ft. Bragg, N.C. A Medium Atomic Support Command will be organized at Ft. Hood, Tex.

The Army had previously announced its intention to organize at least six atomic commands in line with its new concept for troop unit operations on nuclear warfare battlefields.

The Army plans to cut the number of its regular divisions from 20 to 18 in order to speed the formation of the atomic support gained experience with its new atomic commands, they will be deployed with larger area or Army commands, such as those in Europe.

Chrysler, Union Settle Grievances

DETROIT (A) - Company and union negotiators reached agreement early today on settlement of grievances which threatened to halt assembly operations and idle 100,000 employes at Chrysler Corp.'s Detroit area plants.

A joint statement said all issues involving some 23,000 members of UAW Local 3 at Chrysler's Dodge Main plant were resolved.

Terms of the settlement were not disclosed. It must be ratified

At issue in the strike theat were a list of grievances including union charges of a speedup of production standards. The company denied the speedup charge.

Of the IRBM development program which has brought the Army, Air Force and Navy into competition, Wilson said:

"There is going to be only one, on down the road, not two of

In view of the success of the Jupiter and difficulties with the Air Force rocket, some observers wondered why the Jupiter project was canceled. There was no immediate explanation. However, last fall Wilson ruled the Air Force would be the service to use the IRBM, with the Army confined to use of shorter range mis-

Wilson did not say specifically which service would proceed with the program, except to rule out the Army.

The Air Force sought a few weeks ago to launch its first Thor missile from Patrick Air Force Base. Fla., from which the Jupiter was sent up. The firing was a failure.
